

PUBLIC NOTIFICATION/0001/2020

ANNOUNCEMENT FOR THE OPENING OF AN INTERNATIONAL SELECTION TENDER PROCEDURE FOR DOCTORATE HIRING

PURSUANT TO ARTICLE 23 OF DECREE-LAW NO. 57/ 2016 OF 29 AUGUST

Internal Reference: GA nº: 856934 - REC-AG-2018/REC-RDAP-GBV-AG-2018

1. Framework

The Rector of the Universidade Católica Portuguesa, Professor Doctor Isabel Capelo Gil, deliberated the opening of an international selection tender for one vacancy of doctorate researcher to perform duties of scientific research, on a full-time basis, in the scientific field of Psychology, to be carried out at CEDH - Centro de Investigação para o Desenvolvimento Humano, integrated at the Faculdade de Educação e Psicologia of the Universidade Católica Portuguesa, in Porto, within the framework of the European Project Sexism Free Night – raising awareness and capacity building towards safer and egalitarian nightlife environments (GA nº: 856934) a type of action named REC-AG (Rights Equality and Citizenship) of the European Union.

This project will be developed until January 2022. The project intends to promote action-research activities that consider the intersections between psychoactive substance use, nightlife recreational environments, and gender violence. The project has as its main goals the implementation of activities that contribute to gender mainstreaming in the nightlife leisure activities' industry. The project intends to diminish violence and sexism in the nightlife leisure activities' industry through raising awareness about these problems among people who go out at night. It thus intends to promote safer nightlife. Through a multi-component action-research design, the project has the following objectives: 1) to produce and disseminate knowledge about sexual violence in EU nightlife; 2) to commit nightlife professionals in the denormalization of sexism and in the promotion of sexual violence prevention; 3) to build guidelines for good-practice and to capacitate harm-reduction and risk-minimization professionals that intervene in nightlife about the specificity of these problems; 4) to raise awareness about the importance of bystanders in denormalizing and preventing sexual violence among people who go out at night; 5) to disseminate the project's outcomes and outputs at national and European levels.

2. Applicable Legislation

Decree-Law no. 57/2016 of 29 August, amended by Law no. 57/2017 of 19 July), which approved the doctorate hiring regime destined to stimulate scientific and technological employment for all knowledge areas (RJEC), without prejudice to the specific regulations applicable to the Universidade Católica Portuguesa.

3. Workplace

The workplace is located on the premises of the Universidade Católica Portuguesa, in Porto.

4. Remuneration

Gross monthly remuneration to be paid is 1.418,89 euros, plus meal allowance. To these amounts are added annual holiday and Christmas allowances.

Co-funded by the Rights, Equality &
Citizenship Programme of the European Union

5. Admission requirements

Any national, foreign, and stateless candidate(s) who hold a doctorate degree in Psychology or related scientific fields such as Anthropology or Sociology, and a scientific and professional curriculum whose profile is suited for the activities to be performed can submit their applications. In the event the doctorate degree was awarded by a foreign higher education institution, said degree must comply with the provisions of Portuguese law on the recognition of foreign degrees. For those purposes, the requirements described in point no. 11 of this notice must be considered.

6. Selection Process

Pursuant to article 5 of RJEC, selection is to be made based on candidate scientific and curricular career evaluation.

7. Evaluation Criteria

Assessment criteria: curricular and academic background over the last five years and relevance, quality, and connection with state-of-the-art activities in the project's fields and themes of action. The following elements will be specifically considered: scientific production considered most relevant and best related to the project's themes and fields of action; applied research or practice-based research activities the candidate considers to be most impactful and more closely related to the project's fields and themes of action; knowledge extension and dissemination activities that are more closely related to the project's fields and themes of action. The evaluation of these criteria will prioritize the link with the project's fields and themes of action more than metrical indicators of activity.

Candidate final classification system shall be given on a scale of 0 to 100. The value is calculated by weighing in each factor as follows, always taking into account that for each item only the activity relevant to the scientific field of the present tender will be considered:

1. Scientific and curricular background (PC)

- a) Scientific production: 20%;
- b) Applied or practice-based research activities: 50%;
- c) Knowledge extension and dissemination activities 30%;

Final Classification =100% PC

The candidates who receive the highest scores might be interviewed. The evaluation will consider the candidates' scientific production (20%), applied or practice-based research activities (50%), knowledge extension and dissemination activities (20%), and interview (10%).

8. Tender Selection Panel

Pursuant to article 13 of RJEC, the tender selection panel shall be formed by:

9. Deliberação, forma de publicitação.

The panel shall deliberate by means of roll-call vote justified under the adopted and disclosed selection criteria, with no abstentions allowed. Minutes of panel meetings shall be executed and shall include a summary of all occurrences of said meeting, as well as of all votes casted by the members and respective reasoning. After selection criteria application, the panel shall prepare a sorted list of approved candidates and respective classification. The panel's final decision shall be validated by the leader of the institution, who is also in charge of deciding about the hiring. The ranked list of approved candidates will be posted at the facilities of Universidade Católica Portuguesa at Porto located at Rua Diogo Botelho, n.º 1327 - 4169-005 Porto, and will be announced on the website www.porto.ucp.pt. Candidates will be notified by email once this list is made available.

10. Preliminary Hearing and Final Decision Deadline

After being notified, all candidates have 10 working days to respond. The panel's final decisions are pronounced within the next 5 working days, following the candidates' deadline.

11. Application formalization

Applications are formalized by presenting a curriculum vitae and a motivation letter that emphasizes the candidate's motivations and expectations to develop the action-research activities in the fields of gender violence, psychoactive substance use, and recreational environments

Applications are to be submitted in English.

Applications shall include the following documents:

- a) Curriculum Vitae
- b) Certificate of completion of the PhD, indicating the date of its conclusion
- c) Letter of introduction, highlighting the candidate's motivations to fill the position

If the Doctoral Degree has been awarded by a non-Portuguese higher education institution it must comply with the provisions of the Portuguese legislation on the recognition of foreign degrees, regulated by Decree-Law no. 66/2018 of August 16th. The signature of the contract is conditional on the presentation of the formal document.

Applicants are advised to check the website of the Directorate-General for Higher Education (DGES) for further information: <https://www.dges.gov.pt/en/pagina/degree-and-diploma-recognition>.
